

The Political Works of Andrew Fletcher, Esq (Classic Reprint)

He was knight of the shire for Lothian to that parliament where the Duke of York was Commissioner in the reign of King Charles II. and openly opposed the arbitrary designs of that Prince and the fatal bill of Accession; which obliged him wisely to retire, first to England and then to Holland where the Duke of York could not forgive his behaviour in that parliament; they summoned him to appear at Edinburgh, which he not daring to do, was declared traitor and his estate confiscated: he retired to Hungary and served several campaigns under the Duke of Lorraine: he returned to Holland after the death of King Charles (Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and do not occur in the book.)
