

The Flower Comes Before the Fruit

The author takes the elements of nature and paints a picture of the journey of a Christian in their walk with God. Issues that arise in everyday life, in the church, and in the personal life are expounded on by using association with the plants around us. A look at what is experienced when a saint is placed in severe hardship and trials is portrayed with the authors own personal experience as an illustration. What the saint is to do when overwhelmed by the circumstances of life is explained along with what God is doing in many peoples lives if they will only submit. The issue of submitting is explored along with the awesome reward of allowing the Master to have His way in your life.
