

Convictions of the Heart

Denise is a self-assured, independent woman who recently divorced her husband Lance because of his unfaithfulness. She decides to leave everything behind and move to South Carolina to start over and further her career. Denise works around hardened criminals, and falling in love is that last thing on her mind, that is until she meets Malachi. Denise knows the dangers of a workplace romance, and she wills herself to stay away from Malachi even though there is a gravitational pull that is stronger than her will. Malachi is willing to wait for Denise to allow herself to love and trust again. Can Denise get over being betrayed long enough to allow Malachi to prove his love for her? What will her family think if she chooses to be with Malachi? These convictions of the heart will force Denise to let go of her inhibitions and let love lead the way.
