

Desert World: Romance & Intrigue at the Zoo

Celia March is a jack-of-all trades at this small tourist attraction, Desert World, coming here to heal after two broken engagements. Among the zoo animals she keeps at her home are two mountain lion kittens and an injured raven, who keep things lively. When she is asked to assist a famous photojournalist doing a story on the zoo, she can't refuse even when she learns it is her former fiancée Sherman Brenner. He was once held captive in Lebanon during a crisis there, and ended their engagement when he returned a broken man. Once more he is the handsome, dynamic man she had loved, but they soon realize his former captors have come to stop him from publishing a book about his captivity. This places Celia in danger too... but the kittens and the raven might have something to say about that. The desert is famous for its golf courses, so don't forget to bring your clubs.
