

Packmen, carriers, and packhorse roads: Trade and communications in North Derbyshire and South Yorkshire

First published in 1980 by Leicester University Press, this publication built upon the classic work of Dodd and Dodd and their Peaklands Roads and Trackways. Republished by Landmark, the latter and Heys book compliment each other very well. This book covers old roads in the Peak and South Yorkshire (the book covers the area to Bawtry), giving a significant amount of historical detail on what was actually carried on the regions roads and ancient highways, as well as describing the system of routes.
