

Combat Veterans Stories of the Korean War: Volume 1

This volume contains 16 autobiographies and 41 photos of men that fought in the Korean War. Their stories give readers an understanding of what draftees, volunteers, and professional military men experienced in that war. They often tell information not available in U.S. military reports and government-authorized histories and sometimes counter them. The second volume of Korean War Combat Veterans Stories contains 19 autobiographies, 59 photos, and an account of the war-prisoner experience told by a U.S. Army doctor that spent three years as a POW.
