

The I & M Canal At Ottawa, Illinois: Important Events of the Past to Interesting Trivia of the Present

Motivation for compiling and writing the report given here is a deep felt desire to preserve as much information as possible concerning the Illinois and Michigan Canal in the immediate vicinity of Ottawa. Being a member of the last generation to know the canal when it was still operational, though in great disrepair and for the most part abandoned, added a personal incentive, and nostalgia and the ever present need to reminisce were the stimulus to undertake this effort. - John A. Hilliard
