

THE BOX: Answering the Faith of Unbelief

Fun and easy to read, The Box uses the lively discussions of two neighbors to simplify powerful apologetic principles and refute the myth that unbelief stands on science and reason while the Christian worldview rests on blind faith. You'll see why the biblical miracles are logical and reasonable, why unbelievers cannot possibly know they did not happen, and why it is impossible for atheists to know that God does not exist. The Box explains why all arguments rest on assumptions of faith, and why unbelieving assumptions by which they argue against the God of Scripture are unscientific and unreasonable blind faith. How can Mr. A know God does not exist when he doesn't know the contents of Mr. C's garage?
