I have but one thing more to add which is in short this, that those gentlemen who accuse his Lordship, do what they can to excuse his Grace, the D. of S., by confidently affirming that his Grace is coming off from that party which they say his Lordship is espousing, but this last report, though I could wish it true with respect to his Grace, yet I assure myself that tis absolutely false with respect to his Lordship.--Seal of arms. R. Allyn to James Bruce. 1710, May 28. Maulden.--Mr. Hearne having at last found out Mr. Knivetons MS. at Ashmoles Museum thought it proper before he proceeded to transcribe it, that my Lord Bruce should be informed of his opinion concerning it. I presume that Mr. Dodsworths accounts which he mentions are those which I last transmitted to you, but if his Lordship shall please to have this MS. copied out care will be forthwith taken for doing it. Mr. Hinton tells me that there are in the Bodleian Library above 200 MSS. in folio consisting of nothing but pedigrees of ancient families and that most of them contain something of the family of Bruce. Dr. W. Sacheverell to Lord Bruce. 1710, August 10. Marlborough.-- Upon my arrival to this place I met with such extraordinary instances of your Lordships great kindness and generosity to me that I am at a loss to express my gratitude to you as becomes such surprising benefactions. I pray God return a double reward both in this world and the next on your Lordship
