Save up to 60% off Never Pay Retail Again Investors should purchase stocks [financial services] like they purchase groceries-not like they purchase perfume... legendary value investor, Benjamin Graham The financial world has changed. In the 21st Century you can buy direct without the sales persons markup. You save $3,000 every year on the financial products you already own by switching to the low-cost products and services that many industry insiders buy for their own accounts. Mr Graham would have bought his securities at a discount broker directly not at a Wealth Management Private Bank. He would shop at the big box stores, not boutiques. He bought value-quality at the right price.
