

Hey Church, Stop Being Manipulated!

You have spoken truth on a most difficult subject. I was convicted and forced to see how I have been blinded to my own capacity to manipulate and abuse people. The spirit of your writing makes the sharp truth you deliver palatable. I love you for speaking a heavy truth with such love. Dr. Carl Morris; Senior Pastor Abundant Life Church; Florence, South Carolina I just finished your book! There is so much to say I would not know where to start. But let me just say this to begin with, it is information every one should read, know and be aware of. Al Campbell; Cincinnati, Ohio It is a good book and covers the subject well. It is a book every Christian should read. Thanks for letting me read it. Bishop Houston Miles; Founder of Evangel Fellowship International Be sure to look for Dales first book, Hey God, Is It Too Much to Ask? Coming soon Hey World, You Watch You Wait Youll See! Author Dale Campfield writes, Though this topic of manipulation might be a tough message, I am compelled to share it. I believe many of us, including myself, have misused our spiritual authority over people for too long and it must stop. Its time for spiritual leaders to stop manipulating the Church, and its time for the Church to stop being manipulated. As long as the Church will allow itself to be manipulated by spiritual authority, she will never arise to the fullness of her call to accomplish her Kingdom Assignments. Hey, Church, stop being manipulated!
